THE UNDUE HARDSHIP STANDARD

Government guaranteed student loans cannot be discharged in bankruptcy unless, (A) more than seven years has elapsed between the time the loan first became due and the {155 F.3d 1111} filing of the bankruptcy petition; or "(B) excepting such debt from discharge . . . will impose an undue hardship on the debtor and the debtor's dependents." 11 U.S.C. § 523(a)(8) (emphasis added).

On or about April 1, 2002 I dropped out of college and went to prison for 9 years. I was in contact with my student loan providers and had loans deferred until 2011 and have been able to pay my loans or get them deferred until now. It has been 15 years since my loan has become due.

See Brunner, 831 F.2d at 396. The Second Circuit's standard for "undue hardship" requires a three-part showing: (1) that the debtor cannot maintain, based on current income and expenses, a "minimal" standard of living for the debtor and his or her dependents if forced to repay the loans; (2) that additional circumstances exist indicating that this state of affairs is likely to persist for a significant portion of the repayment period of the student loans; and (3) that the debtor has made good faith efforts to repay the loans.

- 1.) I am 51 years old and on November 7, 2016 I received a 65 month prison sentence in the Oregon Department of Corrections. I have been incarcerated since 1997 with a total of about 5 years on the street. My mental state of mind seems to be incapable living outside of the prison walls. I have no money or assets and will be put out on the street in 4-5 years from now with no job skills except as a old (very old) laborer.
- 2.) From my past record and age it seems unlikely I will have money to support my basic needs food, shelter and transportation.
- 3.) I have shown good faith since my loans have went into default in 2002 and they just get bigger due to interest and lack of income.

INSTRUCTIONS

The filing of a bankruptcy case creates an "estate" under the jurisdiction of the bankruptcy court which consists of all of the property of the debtor, wherever that property is located. Because the bankruptcy estate is so extensive and the jurisdiction of the court so broad, there may be lawsuits over the property or property rights of the estate. There also may be lawsuits concerning the debtor's discharge. If such a lawsuit is filed in a bankruptcy court, it is called an adversary proceeding.

A party filing an adversary proceeding must also must complete and file Form 1040, the Adversary Proceeding Cover Sheet, unless the party files the adversary proceeding electronically through the court's Case Management/Electronic Case Filing system (CM/ECF). (CM/ECF captures the information on form 1040 as part of the filing process.) When completed, the cover sheet summarizes basic information on the adversary proceeding. The clerk of court needs the information to process the adversary proceeding and prepare required statistical reports on court activity.

The cover sheet and the information contained on it do not replace or supplement the filing and service of pleadings or other papers as required by law, the Bankruptcy Rules, or the local rules of court. The cover sheet, which is largely self-explanatory, must be completed by the plaintiff's attorney (or by the plaintiff if the plaintiff is not represented by an attorney). A separate cover sheet must be submitted to the clerk for each complaint filed.

Plaintiffs and Defendants. Give the names of the plaintiffs and defendants exactly as they appear on the complaint.

Attorneys. Give the names and addresses of the attorneys, if known.

Party. Check the most appropriate box in the first column for the plaintiffs and the second column for the defendants.

Demand. Enter the dollar amount being demanded in the complaint.

Signature. This cover sheet must be signed by the attorney of record in the box on the second page of the form. If the plaintiff is represented by a law firm, a member of the firm must sign. If the plaintiff is pro se, that is, not represented by an attorney, the plaintiff must sign.
